Trustee Teske asked how many responses we had. Barbar responded with seven. Trustee Feder noted we used R. William Funk & Associates for the last presidential search. Feder suggested having a fresh start with another fillinustee Nyhan shared concerns with Funk & Associates. They conducted six searches for us, with three of them not ending in a candidate. Trustee Feingodopressed similar concerns rustee Stilley agreed that it might be time for a new search firm. Stillenyentioned that of the other two, one seemed regional and one national. He noted that the last search firm seemed to push the university toward a certain candidate and didn't want that to happen again. Barbar responded the affisher references noted that about some of the firms re discussion ensued regarding the differences in es
